

Letters to the Editor: 11.04.07

Warm welcome

I just returned from a visit to Corpus Christi after traveling with a group of three airline crew members.

I was so impressed with the cleanliness and beauty of your city. Also notable was the friendliness of residents and workers. Two of us spent a day visiting the sights. We found your quaint and inexpensive trolley buses, which enabled us to get around town. The drivers were so helpful and courteous -- explaining connections and times.

One crew member ventured out on her own and thoroughly enjoyed the sights. She went into a local diner and was eating alone. The cooks came out and spent time with her so she didn't feel she was eating alone. The consensus of the crew is that Corpus Christi is the absolute best layover they have ever experienced. Thanks to all the friendly people there.

Carol Syracuse

(Locust Grove, Ga.)